

Before the Indiana law was passed to limit telemarketing, I received 3 to 4 calls per day...usually at the dinner hour. This is an invasion of my privacy. I switched to unlisted and unpublished and added "caller privacy" but still received approximately 10 calls per week. After the Indiana law came into effect and I put my phone numbers on the list, it received only 1 a month. I DO NOT WISH TO BE CALLED BY ANY TELEMARKETERS NOR DO I WISH TO RECEIVE CALLS FOR SURVEYS OR POLLS. The only people that should be calling me are those to whom I have given my telephone number.
